

Complete Name: Ach. Jailani

Hi, my name is Ach. Jailani, everyone calls me Jay. currently, I'm a college student and also an employee at Privy Digital Identity Company as a Backend Engineer. when I was in Junior High School I liked English, it started with Korean entertainment whether the movies or the songs.

Like other people generally, I also have a hobby and future goals, my hobby is.... but it may look weird to some people, it's fishing, yeah I like fishing, I don't why I like it so much, it starts when I was a kid leaving in a small village out there enjoying what the nature gives. and for my future goals are... well, I don't have a lot but the first one is to make my parents happy for the rest of their life, yeah that is. and the last one is to be an entrepreneur, yeah I want to be an entrepreneur at home, for the first I may spend some years out here to learn a lot of things that I can bring home one day.

Honestly, I don't know what to explain about myself, but there it is.

Thank You.
